FAITH IN FOCUS:EVERY SILVER LINING HAS A CLOUD!

The worst thing you can do to someone who's depressed is to tell them to pull themselves together. They simply can't, because they don't see things the way we do and from their point of view all the positives seem to have vanished. That's the mood that Job is in today in our scripture reading. He's suffering a restlessness: when it's night he longs for the dawn but when the new day comes he wishes it was night again. He's hopeless and helpless. It's easy to jump on the bandwagon of depression, although most of us just like a good moan and we occasionally end up feeling sorry for ourselves. We complain about the rise in food prices in the economic downturn but then we still spend our money on things that we don't really need or that don't do us any good. But imagine if you really did lose all hope and the future seemed bleak. Where would you turn? What would be the compass points of your existence that would guide you through the dark days? In today's gospel we hear that Jesus cured many people of mental illness who were brought to him by their family and friends. When everything else seemed to have failed they knew that he wouldn't let them down. "Casting out devils" meant healing mental disturbance and this was a large part of the healing ministry of Christ. Just because we believe in Jesus does not mean that we will never suffer from depression; in fact, depression is sometimes the only way a person can survive an awful experience. It's the mind's way of defending itself for a while. And it's not the case that Christians look at the world with rose-coloured glasses. We don't just see a wonderful world; we go through the same troughs as every other person. But faith gives a purpose to our suffering. It teaches us that whatever we undergo we are not alone. Besides any medical treatment that we might receive, we also know that Jesus himself has already taken on the deepest suffering possible and has overcome it. Being a Christian means being part of a community that cares, a community that sees the hurt of one person as affecting the whole Body of Christ, the Church. Look around you.
